ROADMAP CONSULTING

A clear roadmap is becoming increasingly important for IT, as a significant portion of most infrastructure is comprised of Microsoft products. Our technology consultants and licensing experts work in concert with your IT and procurement teams to deliver a consultancy roadmap.

LEVERAGE SOFTWAREONE TECHNOLOGY EXPERTISE

SoftwareONE provides you with a workshop, during which we will get to know and analyze your current infrastructure and create a results report consisting of:

- Documentation of a product's current state
- Recommended technologies available to you in the next few years. Of course, not only for products already being used but also for products that you would like to use in the future, including their dependencies on existing infrastructure.
- A timeline of the next few years with all important dates concerning the product, such as expiring support, new product versions or discontinued products
- An overview of the current agreement structure and a proposal for future options of the respective product
- An overview of the upcoming years for the products used at your site
- A dashboard letting you see at a glance where changes are necessary or where there is currently no need to act
- A summary that provides you with a recommendation for your individual roadmap

TECHNOLOGY SOLUTION EXPERIENCE

Test drive Microsoft technologies that are custom tailored to your organization's needs. The Microsoft Experience Center (MEC) offers decision makers the opportunity to try Microsoft's Business Productivity platforms in an environment fully tailored to their current practice. As a vendor-independent provider, SoftwareONE provides you the opportunity to test current solutions without risk.

BENEFITS

- You will gain a better understanding of the available Microsoft technologies.
- The MEC provides an ideal framework for getting to know Microsoft tools and technologies in the area of business productivity – completely without sales pressure, lengthy demonstrations or superfluous presentations
- Though practice-oriented learning and dynamic dialogue with SoftwareONE's Technical Specialists, you will discover which Microsoft solutions contribute the most to the innovation and growth of your business
- Every MEC participant will have his own PC so the workshop moderator can guide the group through the Microsoft business programs. Your technical team is not needed. This opportunity is geared exclusively towards decision makers.

PARTICIPATE

Talk to your SoftwareONE team today to plan your MEC workshop and discover the possibilities of the Microsoft Business Productivity platforms. All we need is a conference room, internet access and your interest in new solutions. For additional information please contact your Account Manager.
